ELECTION NEXT TUESDAY.

FOUR POLITICAL PARTIES IN THE FIELD.
The General State election takes place on Tuesday next. The polls will be open from 7 A. M. until 7 P. M. in New Jersey.
The election district limits in Bloomfield are as follows:

The first, or Centre district, beginning in the line dividing the townships of Bloomfield and Belleville at the point where the same is intersected by the New York and Greenwood Lake Railway, thence westerly along the New York and Greenwood Lake Railway to a point in the centre line of Belleville Avenue, thence westerly along the centre line of Belleville Avenue to Broad street, thence northerly along the centre line of Broad street to the New York and Greenwood Lake Railway, thence westerly along the New York and Greenwood Lake Railway to the Montclair township line, thence southerly along the Montclair line to the centre line of Washington Avenue, thence easterly along the centre line of Washington Avenue to the centre line of Bloomfield Avenue, thence easterly along the center line of Bloomfield Avenue to the line of Newark, thence northerly along the line of Newark and Belleville to place of beginning.

The second, or upper district comprises all that portion of the township northerly of the first district. The third district comprises all that portion of the township southerly of the first district.

The polling places are located as follows:

First District—Phoenix Hose House, Bloomfield Avenue.
Second District—Morris School House, Third District—Lucky House, Glenwood Avenue.

THE PARTIES AND CANDIDATES.

The officers to be voted for are a Governor, a representative in Congress from the tenth Congressional District, and a member of Assembly from the First Assembly District.

The Republican candidates are, for Governor, Captain Benjamin F. Howe; for Congress, Hon. Herman Lehbach; for Assembly, Hon. Chas. F. Underhill.

The Democratic Ticket is headed by Richard Stoughton Green for Governor. Hon.
Joseph E. Haynes, Mayor of Newark, for Congress. Henry Ahlborn, of Caldwell, for Assembly.

Besides the old political organizations there are two others, the Prohibition and Labor parties, in the field, making the contest this year a quadrilateral.

The Prohibitionists have nominated for Governor, Clinton B. Fisk; for Congress, John R. Anderson, of Montclair; for Assembly, David F. Merritt, of Montclair.

The Labor Societies of Essex County have this year gone earnestly into politics.
They held a Congressional Convention at Newark last week, adopted a platform—that of the Knights of Labor—and nominated for Congress, Henry A. Beckmeyer.
They have made no nomination as yet for Governor, but are placing men, from their own ranks generally, in the field for the Assembly. In this District Daniel J.
Brady, a Bloomfield fish fisher, is the nominee of United Labor.

The indications, therefore, are that a pretty full vote will be polled, and that Captain Howe will carry the County of Essex by a good majority. Gen. Fisk's vote from the Prohibitionists will, in all probability, so exceed the vote for St.
John two years ago—750. In Bloomfield the extreme cold water party cannot reasonably count upon more than 50 votes for Fisk. The contest for Assemblyman, on account of the fourth party of the workingmen, introduces a new factor in the solution of the problem. Were the Democratic leaders and the labor societies in harmony as heretofore the contest between Underhill and Ahlborn would be close, as the Prohibitionists last year almost succeeded in electing the Democratic candidate, and they would be disposed to make a desperate effort to capture the district at this time. But the indications now are that Merritt and Ahlborn will lose at least fifty per cent of their following this year as compared with last, and that Mr. Underhill will have a majority in the District that will effectually settle the question for this locality of a Prohibition party.

Wedding in the M. E. Church.

The wedding ceremony of Miss Emma Carter of this place to Mr. Robert Haight of Glenville, Conn., was celebrated on Thursday evening, at 6 o'clock in the Park M. E. Church. The church pulpit was decorated with flowers and floral designs, and presented a very pretty appearance.
The bride party entered the church in the following order: Herbert Cook-fair, George Mallalieu, Howard B. Davis and Edward Cooke-fair, ushers; Miss Florence Proctor, of Brooklyn, Miss Lillian Field of New York and Miss Carrie Saffern of Bloomfield as bridesmaids, accompanied by Joseph Haight of Glenville, John Moore of New York; and Elmer Carter, Fannie and Flora Dunsenbury, two little girls, followed as maids of honor; next came the bride and groom. As the party reached the altar Rev. Albert Mann, Jr., stepped forward and made the twin one. Prof.
William C. Carl played a wedding march on the organ. After the ceremony a number of guests were handsomely entertained at the residence of the bride's parents, on Franklin street. After a short reception and supper, the happy couple started for Washington, D. C. for a short tour, after which they will go to Glenville. The bride received many elegant presents.

The Public Schools.

TO THE BLOOMFIELD CITIZEN.

There are a number of things in connection with our public school system in Bloomfield which deserve and should receive the prompt attention of our citizens.
I only wish to call notice to one fact which ought to be made right as soon as possible.

This is the intermission at noon. It is a very short one, too short for what is necessary. Let any person watch the scholars as they are dismissed and he will find it out. The school is not let out until five or even ten minutes after twelve. Then the scholars must be back by one or up they go to the principal's room; and what good that does them I'd heartily like to know. They must take their lunches or else in many cases they must run all the way home and back again. I don't think this is right at all especially when they have little or no recess.

I suppose there are a good many others in the same fix as I am, who think this is one of the things that need attention.
It don't take college education in a man for him to see whether his son or daughter is being educated as he ought to be.

PLAIN TALK.

A Labor Demonstration.

A mass meeting of workmen who have declared for independent politics, was held on Tuesday evening in Dodd's Hall. The place was filled to overflowing.
The Watessing band was in attendance.
The opening speech was made by Daniel J. Brady, Labor candidate for Assembly.
He was followed by Charles Dodd, who made an appeal to the workmen to lay aside prejudices of every kind and support their own nominees, Beckmeyer and Brady, of whom he spoke highly. Henry A.
Beckmeyer was present also, and made an effective address. He came down heavy of Governor Abbott, who, he said, made a speech at the big labor demonstration in Newark in September, in which he asked only to be remembered, after he was dead, as the "friend of the workingmen." This great friend of theirs, the speaker said, was heard of in New York a few days ago, where he showed his friendship for workmen by opposing their efforts to elect Henry George Mayor.

be ready for occupancy by next week.
The building presents a very creditable appearance.

evening, Nov. 5th, begin a short course of talks, illustrated by the stereopticon, on a trip to Europe.

byterian church are expecting to repeat "The Smith Family" concert on the evening of November 12th.

On Thursday evening, Mr. Frank Ward and Miss Grace McIntosh were married at the residence of the bride's parents, on Ridgewood avenue.

Anyone desiring to see what a change of appearance a substantial coat of paint will create, will do well to take a look at Krach's, formerly Weaver's Grove House.

All who wish to hear an interesting lecture should arrange to be at the Park M. E. church on Monday evening, November 8th. See advertisement in another column.

Efforts are being put forth by some of the young gentlemen of our churches to form a Young Men's Christian Association.
Two preliminary meetings have already been held.

Efforts are being made by some citizens of the Franklin Hill district to get water mains through Berkeley avenue, as there is some building going on there, and there is still more to follow.

The Rev. Arnold W. Fisher, a graduate of the Seminary, arrived in town from a European sojourn. He expects to go to Detroit, Mich., on a missionary errand, under direction of Mr. Knox.

Dennis A. Newport, who narrowly escaped instant death at the Glenwood avenue crossing of the D. L. & W. R. R. a few days ago and whose friend Mr. Bolger, was so seriously injured, has commenced suit against the company.

Rev. P. A. Schwarz was robbed of his gold watch on Saturday evening last at the D. L. & W. R. R. depot, in Newark, while about to board a train for New York.
Two young colored men who jostled him rudely are supposed to have got the watch.

People of the eastern end of Bloomfield avenue are much elated over the prospect of the Watchung R. R. branch building a depot on the Avenue. How near or far the prospect is from realization may not yet be stated with any degree of certainty.

An auction sale of household furniture, piano, bedroom sets, parlor suit, kitchen utensils, carpets, also carriage etc., will take place Wednesday next at 10 A. M., at the residence of Dr. J. B. Pitt, County Building and Loan Association held Oct. 26th, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Tome Henderson, President; Frederick H. Pilch, Vice-President; Charles L. Seibert, Treasurer; Frederick E. Langstroth, Secretary.

Dr. Shelton, of Montclair, has made arrangements with Dr. Pitt to take charge of his practice, and expects to open an office immediately in some central location, as seen by his advertisement in another column. We cordially welcome the doctor.

The sale of reserved seats for the "Rag in Illuminated Tours" will begin at J. P. Sheriff's store on next Saturday, November 6, at seven o'clock in the morning.
The views can be seen from every seat in the house, and those toward the rear of the hall are by no means undesirable.
Persons who hold course tickets can exchange them for reserved seats.

The First District Republicans on Monday nominated Charles F. Underhill, of Franklin, by acclamation. At the Convention Mr. F. H. Pilch, of Bloomfield, was Chairman and Mr. A. C. Studer, of Montclair, Secretary. Mr. Underhill was unanimously elected, amid applause.
Messrs. Lindsley, Lawson and Smith were appointed a Committee to bring Mr. Underhill before the Convention and addresses were made by the nominee, Mr. Van Riper and others.

On Wednesday of last week, Miss Louise Lindemeyer, eldest daughter of our townsman, Mr. Henry Lindemeyer, was joined in the bonds of matrimony to Mr. Willy Sontag, a New York merchant, by the Rev. John M. Enslin of the German Presbyterian church of Bloomfield.
The wedding reception was given at the city residence of the bride's parents in 15th street, New York. The presents received were many and costly. The bridal pair started on an extensive wedding trip to Washington and the South.

VICINITY NOTES.

Orange.

The second annual ball of the Essex County Hunt took place Tuesday evening in Music Hall.

The New Jersey Horticultural Society of Orange is making extensive preparations for the floral show on November 9, 10, and 11, at Music Hall. For basket or original design of cut flowers, in which ferns, foliage, moss or ribbons may be used if desired, the first prize is $50, second prize $25, third prize $10.

Work has been begun upon the foundation of the newly-incorporated German Catholic church, and it is hoped that the work will be progressed sufficiently by Thanksgiving Day to permit the holding of the ceremonies of laying the cornerstone and consecrating the foundations on that day.

The special meeting of the Common Council, Tuesday evening, was called for the purpose of receiving official notification of the declaration of the Citizens' Gas-light Company to accept the one-year contract for gas and electric lighting offered by the Aldermen. The Aldermen adjourned without action.

While the family of Mr. G. M. Sandford of Linden place, were at lunch on Tuesday, a sneak thief effected an entrance into the house and secured a number of articles of value, principally watches and jewelry, in all valued at between $400 and $500. After securing the plunder the thief retreated by the front door, leaving it open. The family knew nothing of the robbery until some time after when the disordered bureau and wardrobes on the second floor led to an investigation.

Milburn.

Dr. Edward T. Whittingham, for many years the leading physician of Milburn, died on Tuesday afternoon. Dr.
Whittingham was the oldest son of the late Rt. Rev. Bishop Whittingham, of Maryland, and about fifty-six years of age.
His boyhood was mostly spent among relatives in Orange. He graduated at St.
James' College, at Hagerstown, Md., of which his father was President, studied in Baltimore, and passed the most of his professional life in Milburn, where he settled about thirty years ago. During the war he was a Surgeon in the Regular Army for three years, and served under General Kearney and other noted chieftains in the cavalry, artillery and infantry. Six years ago he was prostrated by an apoplectic stroke, and it was thought would not recover, but his remarkable vitality overcame the attack and he soon resumed his work, although he has gradually failed since that time. His last professional service was rendered to Mrs.
Hand, his neighbor, who was burned by an accident last week.

East Orange.

At the regular meeting of the East Orange Township Committee, Monday evening, Engineer Bassett reported that the work of laying the new sewer pipes had not progressed as rapidly as he would like to have it, but he believed that it would soon go on faster. So far as the quality of the work was concerned it was generally very good. Some of the pipe laying was faulty, but it had not been accepted and would have to be remedied.

Some 10,000 feet had been properly laid, and there were now about 170 men engaged in the work. Two additional squads of men were expected to be at work in a few days.

West Orange.

Michael Abbott, gardener for Mr. O.
D. Munn, in Llewellyn Park, was on the Orange mountain gathering moss, Monday afternoon, when he found the body of a man, lying face downward, and partly covered by leaves. The body was that of a German, about forty years of age. It was discovered that the man had committed suicide by taking Paris green.

The Recent Flood in Texas.

FROM A LETTER OF ONE OF THE SUFFER-ERS TO A FRIEND IN BLOOMFIELD.

ORANGE, TEXAS.

"It is only through a kind Providence I am permitted to write you. The afternoon of Wednesday I saw there was to be a big storm, so my wife and myself went to a neighbor's, Captain B's, for company.
As we expected to be up all night, we went for my wife's mother and her children, and took them to the same place.

About 8 P. M. we first noticed the water from the gulf which kept rising until it lifted the house up, and before we could open the doors and let the house fill with water, it had moved about a quarter of a mile. We put the women and children on beds that floated, until I saw the water still rising, and I cut a hole in the ceiling with my knife so I could break off a plank large enough for us to get into the garret.

The waters rose until six feet above the highest point on the Bayou—remained so until daylight, when a most sickening sight met our eyes in every direction.
Houses were missing, the stores, boats and gin, all gone but one steamboat.

As soon as the waters went down, so I could make to the first house I set out and found three bodies in going a quarter of a mile.

Late the next evening a steamboat came down from Orange, 30 miles, with water and provisions, and has been making trips every day, taking off people and helping the distressed.

I helped pick up and bury sixteen that day and then the people requested me to take charge of the women and children, and take them to Orange, so they could look after the dead and missing. So here I am with eighty under my charge. The people of Orange have responded nobly and we are not suffering for anything.

All of Mrs. B's family are saved—but her place, as well as mine is perfectly bare—everything gone but the land, houses, horses, cattle, clothing, bedding, etc.
My wife and I have each a change of clothing, and she has as brave a heart as three men. The day after the storm the body of a woman came floating by perfectly nude. She took a sheet and wadding out to it in water up to her waist, wrapped it around and dragged it ashore where we buried it. There were ninety-six lost around us, and one hundred at Sabine Pass. . . .

Lovingly your son,
JACK.
